

Electronic Report Delivery? Yes!

ChemaTox Laboratory is now offering a new way to keep informed of in-progress and completed requests. Testing results, chain of custody documentation, and status information for all pending test requests will be available via a secure web portal. We are also offering electronic invoicing.

How Do I Get My Reports?

ChemaTox has developed a secure web portal to deliver your reports. You will be able to log in to the web portal and download your documents or access status information at your leisure. By signing up, you will receive documents electronically only; we will no longer mail your reports and accompanying paperwork.

How Will I Know When They Are Ready?

When new reports are uploaded, an email will be sent to the people who were selected at sign-up for notification. It is entirely up to you which people need to be on the notification list.

Who Can See My Reports?

Only the people you specify on the sign-up form will be able to access your results. Each one will have their own individual login to access all documents associated with your agency. Individuals can be added or removed as needed. Additionally, if you are a police department, the district attorney's office for your jurisdiction will be able to see the reports that have been uploaded.

What Is The Status Information?

In addition to finished reports and chain of custody documentation, ChemaTox will provide a daily summary that lists every request ChemaTox has received from your agency for the last 6 months as well as the status for each case. There will be two file formats: a txt file that can be opened in your web browser and a csv file that can be opened in any spreadsheet program. The csv file can be sorted and rearranged in order to view the information as you need it.

How Much Does It Cost?

Actually, it's free. There is no additional cost for choosing this method. As a bonus, reports will get to you faster. As soon as they are signed, they will be uploaded to the web portal.

How Long Until I Get Electronic Reports?
